The 69th SPSJ Annual Meeting
Chair Prof. Atsushi TAKAHARA

Regarding new coronavirus diseases (COVID-19), the number of patients whose transmission routes are unknown has been increasing, and the infection risk of COVID-19 is higher. In addition, the Japanese government has requested the cancellation or suspending of events under the risk of infection clusters.

SPSJ has analyzed the information of COVID-19 and discussed the Annual Meeting.

As a result, SPSJ decided to cancel the 69th SPSJ Annual Meeting from 27 to 29 May at Fukuoka International Congress Center.

Under the conditions of spreading infection of COVID-19, the risk of infection clusters at the venue, the restrictions on business trips and the risk of infection to staffs of the meeting, it is practically difficult to hold this 69th SPSJ Annual Meeting.

SPSJ office will sent all registrants to detail information later.
