Conference Introduction:

"China-Japan Symposium on Advanced engineering plastics, Polymer Alloys &Blends and Composites" is an international academic symposium co-founded by the Chinese experts from the High-Performance Structural Materials Group of “China National 863” and Japanese experts in polymer materials in 1995. It has been held biyearly till to 2019. However, it was interrupted due to the COVID-19 form 2020. The symposium aims to conduct academic exchanges on cutting-edge scientific research achievements and application fields in engineering plastics and special engineering plastics, advanced polymer materials, polymer alloys, blends, new nano materials and advanced composite materials. After the friendly exchanges and cooperation of the past 13 sessions, the symposium has truly built a Sino-Japanese technical exchange platform for academic exchanges of advanced materials in the relevant industry. 14th China-Japan Symposium on Advanced engineering plastics, Polymer Alloys &Blends and Composites is scheduled to be held on August 25-27, 2024 at the Sheraton Fuzhou Zhonggeng Hotel in Fuzhou, China and is co-sponsored by the China Synthetic Resin Association and the Nanotechnology Research Association of the Japan Society of Polymer Science.
