To our Japanese colleagues dedicated to the polymer field,

In my own name and in the name of all members of the Institute of Macromolecules of the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro (Brazil),

From the opposite side of the earth, in a friendly country where many nationals come from Japan,

I send our congratulations for the very important and vast contribution of the Society of Polymer Science of Japan to the scientific progress of the world.

On behalf of the faculty of the Macromolecular Research Center and the Ph. D. Program Committee in Macromolecular Science and Engineering at the University of Michigan, I am happy to convey congratulations to the Society of Polymer Science of Japan on the occasion of the 30th anniversary of its establishment.

We are very pleased to extend our very best wishes, and as Director of the Macromolecular Research Center, I extend my personal congratulations.

With kindest regards,

Sincerely,

Charles G. Overberger
